

QUADRANT II

Programme: S. Y. B. Com.

Subject : Computer Science

Semester : III

Paper Code: CSS 101

Paper Title : Computer Application For Business-I

Unit I : Concepts of Data Processing and Analysis

Module Name: File organizational Techniques: sequential and Direct

Module No : 04

GLOSSARY OF TERMS

- Hash function is any function that can be used to map data of arbitrary size to fixed-size values
- Sequential access is a term describing a group of elements (such as data in a memory array or a disk file or magnetic tape being accessed in a predetermined, ordered sequence.
- Transaction processing is information processing in computer science that is divided into individual, indivisible operations called transactions.